9— It is hard to imagine a more
 10— perfect New Year's Day. The low
 11— sun shone without interruption
 12— from the time it pushed up to the
 1— night of Ludwig's barn till it set 2— in cloudless splendor into the beef, squash, broccoli, etc and jellied fruit with whipped cream? A pile of dishes to do. Pans left first at 8.20 and the Friends at 9.00. Peace, perfect peace!

 2— Observed bright Mercury last

9- Dull and rather mild; which 10- was fortunate for me as I had to 11- drive to Paris with no window on 12- driver's side. It exploded into a
 1- thousand pieces as I went to crank it
 2- up after waving goodbye to dear Kathleen.
 3- Les and Bob fixed me up with a heavy
 4- cardboard with a rectangular look 5- out of clear plastic. I have just added up expenses on M2 in 2 1/2 years which was $1387.49 - everything but gas and oil and that included a $70.00 paint job in the summer of 1971.

9- A cold day with a bitter
 10- wind. Tom took the service
 11- as Gordon has the chicken pot
 12- Kathleen went with me to
 1- Brantford taking the dinner
 2- along in the car. Had a
 3- good meal (Kathleen's) at 4- the Bailey's and enjoyed a
 5- quiet, relaxed time.

Growing weather. I hope it does not last too long and bring things along ahead of time. I always think of 1945. Sunny at first then dull and threatening. Dear old Fred Armstrong is gone. What a fine fellow, what a personality! Enter Spring! Winter bows out at 6:50 this morning. "with the bounds of spring on its traces"

Just twenty degrees cooler than yesterday with a strong north-east wind and crystal clear sky. Someone else got the rain, we are dry as dust. The tomato plants came this morning, they have no earth around the roots — will they survive?

A perfect late summer day. Sunny and warm. East side all done; scaffolding now on west side. We entertained our student minister, David Elliott, his wife and son for ham dinner with scalloped potatoes - truly delicious. We got to the rehearsal on time and enjoyed it. Walked up to John's and they persuaded us to stay for another dinner - this time it was tenderloin rib and cauliflower - a grand dinner.

6.09 THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 23

8- 38° 56° 6.18

- 9- There's almost total cloud cover
 10- last night prevented ground
 11- frost. Our dahlias and cannas are 12- so colorful by the white foam;
 1- I hate to think of their early
 2- demise. Darkness falls early
 3- so I could not do any work
 4- in the garden yesterday.
 5-

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 24

8- 6.10 34° 55° 6.16

- 9- Reports of extensive ground
 10- frost this morning, but I did
 11- not notice any damage done
 12- in our garden, although 1- Kathleen had covered most 2- of the tomatoes. You get your 3- groceries at noon, so don't 4- forget to get them out of the 5- store room!!

- 9- Fine and even warmer. We
- 10- had taken our instruments
- 11- so we stopped at Brantford for
- 12- the afternoon rehearsal. Harvested
- 1- over squash soup before supper.
- 2- Today is more summery than

A glimpse of the sun at noon but most of the day dark and drizzly. "Why are you not like Austin Dunton?" Mrs Robson's classic query. Austin would have been 77 today. I am glad I am not like him. Coming from the post office I chatted with the newly widowed Alma. She seemed to like me.

Just crept along from Princeton to Drumbo last evening as the snow fell so thick and fast that at times I could not see the centre line. The ground was white this morning but it soon melted. Cloudy with a few brief pale sunny intervals. The power was off in Drumbo for an hour, after 5 o'clock by candle light and Kathleen made a grate fire which we enjoyed till nearly bed time.

I had a very enjoyable chicken dinner and social evening at 153 Wilfred, all members present and all hungry. The miniature railway lines and engines and cars are simply astounding and all the miniature landscaping, houses, highways, hotels, depots etc - fantastic. Got the ferry washed and waxed at Preston. Today we took the Olds to Brautford.

A little glimpse of the red rising sun, and then all clouds and dampness. The thick rime on everything this morning was supremely beautiful. A great party last evening with the five Taylors and Duchess. Lovely ham and scalloped potatoes, and scrumptious ~~water~~ elderberry pie. Kahlilcum piece as all beer meals are.

The sunny mild springlike day was just ideal for putting up our Christmas lights around the deck rail. Kathleen played her violin beautifully in the morning service. Unusual setting of Christmas carols and for the offertory "O Holy Night"
