Dear Geoffrey:

How we would love to be living close so that we could throw a party in Geof's honour! It would be a bang-up affair with champagne and all the trimmings to help start off many long years <sup>happy</sup> of retirement. When you wrote at Christmas that the address would change it woke me up dreaming. I rushed up the stairs at 31 and found the office EMPTY! Incredible - after almost sixty years! - Peg spotted it first. Grace (bless her heart) - has always sent the Paris Star (every week for more than seventeen years!) - and there it was on the front page. Of course you will simply have more time for music, for gardening, the stargazing <sup>birds!</sup> heavens, beloved Hardy and all those other endless interests. Now write as much to send something in honour of the event. With Peg laid up it's so damned difficult to find a time to explore the downtown stores - will you do some shopping for us? I would probably get some damn silly thing that you would not like or could not use - please get something with the enclosed - you really would like. -

With love to Kay and best wishes for ages of happy times to your dear self
- from Peg and Wade

P.S. - Stephanie will never die!
Here is a bit that appeared in one of the English papers last summer.
I am not sure how well Benny Gross knows Leacock. His selection of huge lights can't compare with what we know - although it was good to know that Jack Benny thought "all humorous writers are second to Leacock." "Once you start reading this fellow you will never want to stop" - said Groucho Mary Love Stephanie!

Dr. G·W· Bell retires after 59 years service

Dr. Geoffrey W. Bell, Paris dentist since 1921, retired December 31st.

After his graduation from Toronto University, Dr. Bell set up his office at 31 William Street which proved to be his permanent business location.

He was born in Paris, the son of Dr. Walter N. Bell, an eminent educationist and former principal of the Paris High School.

An amateur astronomer, Dr. Bell has been a member of the Royal Astronomical Society for 60 years.

He is a gifted pianist and cellist and he and his wife, the former Kathleen Enticknap of Drumbo, are members of the Brantford Symphony Orchestra. At one time they played also in the Kitchener Symphony but found the schedule too heavy. Mrs. Bell is a violinist and an organist as well of the Drumbo Baptist Church.

They have a daughter, Mrs. Arthur (Nuala) Freund of Kitchener and a son Dennis, a bank manager in Burlington. There are four grandchildren.

Besides his busy schedule, Dr. Bell found time to serve on the board of the Paris District High School for a number of years.

Citizens of Paris and district, as well as Drumbo, will congratulate Dr. Bell for his years of service and wish for him a happy and well-deserved retirement.
